Minimum Viable Product (MVP)

One of the steps of NLP is a review of the most important words contained in the databases through the function wordcloud(), where the number of words is estimated at 355,092 words.

Fig 1: the most important words contained in the databases